The "Memphis Jockey Club" that sounds well. Preceding an announcement of "Hall races" and the amount in the total to $8000, it will sound still better.

The London correspondent of the New York World writes interestingly that the great city is in a feverish state of excitement over the visit of the American and country visitors that come to a premium.

To make the streets, as Beale street is being paved, with good stone, laid in regular rows—to do a great service work. Let us have more of it and without so much waste of time.

The WEEKLY APPEAL can be had at the counting-room, in wraps, ready for mailing, price five cents. At $1 a year it is the cheapest newspaper, as it is the best, in this part of the country.

Of the 302 women admitted during the past year into the Memphis House for Indigent Women, forty-six have been discharged as hopeless cases. As is done with the hopelessly insane, these forty-six ought to be confined for life in an asylum.

The Boston Advertiser is of opinion that now that Frank James has been recognized as a "ballgame power" by Governor Crittenden "murder as a crime" has been properly recognized, and the kindred profession of train robbing and "banking" will attract many of our young men.

The planters of the Yazoo valley, despite the disastrous flood, have had a cold, unseasonable weather, and in a few instances unreliable labor, are sanguine of good average crops. They are as busy as beavers, working to that end, and are cheerful and sanguine of achieving it.

That the dogs of Georgia cost more than her preachers, and that rats claim a title of her wheat and corn, are among the curious deductions from a talk with the commissioner of agriculture, who also sees in 1882 a bad year for rats, whose places as rat-killers can only be filled by blacksnakes, according to Congressman Hammond.

GUTHRIE will be hanged on the day set by the court. His counsel, Mr. Reed, has exhausted his resources. The cold-blooded assassin made the crime which robbed the Republic of her most capable and patriotic citizen whose usefulness was appreciated by all classes of the people of the United States.

The Marquis of Blandford has an article in the Nineteenth Century wherein he wishes that the Anglo-Irish landed class be pardoned in the same manner as the Southern aristocracy of the United States, and says that England must choose between the alternatives of home rule for the Irish or separation.

A BIOGRAPHY of Dickens, by A. W. Ward, appeared in London on Saturday, one of the series of English lives of the great Englishman, that it is for the most part extremely eulogistic, but it contains with every Dickens's private letters on American life, and admits that his personality as a Southern aristocrat of the United States, and says that England must choose between the alternatives of home rule for the Irish or separation.

The Chamber of Commerce must be revived. It should never have been permitted to die. As it was when Mr. John S. Toole was secretary, it was the institution of the city. It then gave to accurate and invaluable statistics of the trade and commerce of Memphis, that we have never had since. It must be revived in preparation for the grain and other trade that is to come to us by the Kansas City and Chesapeake roads—the one mostly finished, and the other rapidly approaching completion.

The people expect the grand jury to investigate the alleged tampering with the jury in the case of Mr. Pickett v. Ferguson & Haysman and Haysman. If justice can be tampered with, farewell to justice. The professional juror, the meanness of all the children, tampering with the jury, has been driven from the Criminal Court by Judge Harrison. We cannot afford a review of his most infamous and degrading calling, or even permit the suspicion that it can be revived in our highest courts.

The Methodist Episcopal Church was organized at the famous "Christmas Conference" held in Baltimore in 1784. It is proposed to celebrate the centenary of this event in a manner befitting the large churches which have sprung from this organization. The Methodist Episcopal Church in the Northern branch will hold its general conference in May, 1884, and provides for the joint celebration (with the Southern branch) of this event in Baltimore on the 20th of December of that year.

The London correspondent of the New York World announces that Lord Darnley, who is the son of the Duke of Devonshire, has gone to Ireland to have a personal consultation with his tenants respecting a new basis of rental. Arbitrators had been appointed by each side to reveal all the facts on the ear's estate, but the Duke was given in last Saturday. He has gone to reconcile, if possible, any difference that may yet exist, with the fullest determination to deal fairly with all concerned. His example might be copied advantageously by other Irish landlords.

The position of England and France in the Egyptian imbroglio is very humiliating, especially to the former, who confesses her inability to enforce her commands in a country whose financial affairs she has been administering, and for whose complete control she took fertile possession of Cyprus. Africa to encounter Russia, Austria, Germany and Italy, even with the assistance of France, our "poor old motherland" has to look to the aid of the Sultan, who, but for the British treaty, would have been an exile, without an inch of land in Europe or a foothold in Africa. Thus must be very galling to Englishmen.

The literary event of last week in Paris was the publication of Victor Hugo's greatest drama, Yvande. Besides the objection the poet has to its being put into the stage in his lifetime, it would be impossible to attempt it, as the leading roles could not be adequately filled by any living actor. The Paris correspondent of the New York Herald says "there is a Shakespearean grandeur and power in this original and noble work. The poet has not taken the vulgar view of the stern drama of the invasion, arguing that no human being could have been so fondly cruel as 'Yvande' for mere love of cruelty. He has assumed that his audience and pitiless hero was an honest but deluded fanatic, who sincerely believed that by burning the bodies of his victims he was doing God good service, and saving them from the torment of eternal fire."

After a careful review of the condition of the road and what has accomplished, the committee is of opinion that the land would not be advisable to give its land grant to another company or sell them, and that the early completion of the road by the policy of non-interference on the part of the government, and they therefore recommend that the land be retained by the government.

AFRICA TO ENCOUNTER RUSSIA, AUSTRIA, GERMANY AND ITALY, EVEN WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF FRANCE, OUR "POOR OLD MOTHERLAND" HAS TO LOOK TO THE AID OF THE SULTAN, WHO, BUT FOR THE BRITISH TREATY, WOULD HAVE BEEN AN EXILE, WITHOUT AN INCH OF LAND IN EUROPE OR A FOOTHOLD IN AFRICA.
